In Social Circles.

Christian Endeavor Society Meets.
Fifty persons including members and friends of the Christian Endeavor Society, of the United Brethren church, were royally entertained last evening by Mr. and Mrs. William Coughenour at their home on the Narrows. The party met at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Lenhart at 8:45 o'clock and walked from there in a body to the Coughenour residence. The meeting was the regular monthly business and social one of the society and was pronounced as one of the most instructive and enjoyable ones held for some time. Various committees read very satisfactory reports of the work done during the month, after which a very entertaining musical and literary program was carried out. The program opened with a recitation by Hilda Bridgman, followed by readings by Misses Myrtle Reese and Lillie Bridgman. Essays by Miss Ridenour, Miss Templeton and Miss Minnie Reese were interesting features of the program. The debate was postponed until the next meeting on account of the late hour. Music was furnished by the Christian Endeavor orchestra. Following the regular program, short extemporaneous talks were given by Rev. A. L. Funk, F. W. Funk, and Leo Hoover. Rev. Funk was given politics as his subject, F. W. Funk, matrimony, and Leo Hoover was asked to talk about his recent trip to Philadelphia. The various topics were well discussed and were greatly enjoyed by all present.

Married at Meyersdale.

The wedding of James H. Hobbitt, Jr., and Miss Pearl Hartley of Meyersdale, was celebrated last evening at the Methodist Episcopal church, Meyersdale. Dr. John W. Langdale officiated. The bridal party included Mrs. G. Frank Williams of Camden, W. Va., matron of honor; Miss Mary R. Keagor of Buckhannon, W. Va., maid of honor; Miss Ruth E. Lacey of Cheyenne, Wyo.; Miss Edith Master of Johnstown, and Miss Clara Wilmoth of Meyersdale, bridesmaids. The bridegroom was attended by R. H. Philson of Meyersdale, George B. Hobbitt, James H. Price, Earl Hartley of Meyersdale, and Robert Skemp of Scottsdale were ushers. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride. The bridegroom is a graduate of State College, while the bride is very popular socially in Meyersdale. After a Southern trip Mr. and Mrs. Hobbitt will return to Meyersdale and will be at home to their friends after November 20.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. R. O. Bruce was hostess yesterday afternoon at a very enjoyable children's party at her home on Eighth street, Greenwood, in honor of the seventh birthday of her little daughter, Alberta. The hours were from 3 until 5 o'clock. About 25 friends of the little hostess were present. Various children's games were indulged in until about 4:30 o'clock, when luncheon was served. Little Miss Bruce was the recipient of many pretty and useful presents in remembrance of the happy event. The color, pink and white, were carried out in the decorations and refreshments. In the center of the table was a large pie to which was attached ribbon bearing a dainty souvenir for each little guest. The out of town guests present were Miss Fannie Porter of Cumberland and Mrs. Frank Davis of the Summit.

DON'T WORRY.

This Country is Safe No Matter Who is Elected.
No matter whether Mr. Taft or Mr. Bryan is elected, this country will continue in its business as usual. It is too big, its natural resources are too great for any man or set of men to stop the march of commercial and industrial progress, but the man who wants his share of the new wealth that is created every year should save his money and be ready for his opportunity. The First National Bank of Conneltsville invites you to open a savings account. It pays 4 per cent, compound interest and safety is assured by ample capital and surplus and strong conservative management.

would only hold good in case of defective insulation. This is unlikely as the wires are comparatively new and are all encased in large cables. The break in the gas main was repaired as quickly as possible. The damage in the pipe was plugged this morning and a new main will be put in as soon as possible. How the main became broken is not known. It lay between one and two feet below the surface of the street and while near the excavation of the new building, could hardly have been smashed by workmen engaged on that structure.

Chief of Police Ralfo alleged that the main had been cut off the conduit in order that an incense could be accumulated. This was done and lanterns were placed over the conduits in order that no late stragglers might fall in.

After looking over the scene the Chief placed a cordon pipe which had been dropped during the search for the main. The Chief said a man who stood on top of the main had been blown to the main couldn't come down and left the pipe on top, forming a sort of a trap for the presence of earth. The evidence of the explosion, however, as the Chief decided to think up a new explanation of the pipe's presence. It was probably dropped by some man in the big hurry to get out of the fire zone to care for family but his own safety.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCT. 16, 1908.

POLITICS AND BUSINESS; FACTS AND FUMCOMBE.

In 1908, as in 1896, the Bryntles are trying to trade upon the misfortunes of the country. Twelve years ago the attempt was grossly impudent because the evil times were directly due to Democratic tariff legislation in which Bryan had a leading part. It is not so impudent in 1908, but it is none the less false and misleading. The Republican administration is no more responsible for the bank wrecks and panic of last fall than Bryan was, yet the financial ruin of 1907 is all blamed upon the Republican party on the theory that the party in power is responsible for all the misfortunes that happen during its administration.

The remarkably quick recovery of the financial and business situation during the same administration under which the calamity of last fall happened indicates that the policies of the administration were not the moving causes of the original trouble. The Bryan organs, however, would make it appear that there has been no improvement in the situation. They publish, for example, the statistics published with great satisfaction the fact that the H. C. Frick Coke Company shut down a number of its coke ovens in the Connelville region. While it is true that this company, which is a subsidiary corporation of the United States Steel Corporation, did blow out a number of ovens, it is also a further fact that practically an equal number of ovens were fired up by other coke producers. During the week ending October 10 there were 18,456 ovens in blast, during the week ending October 10 there were 18,252. The aggregate production for the week of October 10 was 198,774 tons, for the week of October 10, 1907 191,713 tons. There was a greater production last week than during the week previously, showing that the action of the Frick company had no effect whatever on the coke trade.

The action of the H. C. Frick Coke Company in blowing out a number of its ovens is doubtless due to various reasons, but the suspension of at least one big coke plant of 900 ovens is known to have been caused by the failure of the water supply and it is just possible that the United States Steel Corporation would prefer to buy coke at $12.50 per ton than to make it at a labor cost of $11.00, especially at its plants in the Connelville region proper, where the coal is most valuable. In order to demonstrate the fact that the coke trade has advanced materially since the close of the last year it need only be stated that production the first of the present year aggregated only 1,800 tons a week. It has nearly doubled since that time, though it has been subject to some severe fluctuations. The appended table tells the whole story in cold figures:

While on this subject it may not be out of place to answer a query propounded by the Prohibition organ of Fayette county. The People's Tribune asks: "The Courier is saying 'It is true that some of the coke ovens are going out."

but the wonder is that more of them are not out and asks: "Isn't this queer Republican doctrine? Why is it a wonder? The Republicans have been in power right along since the County says there is no doubt of their continuance in power. Why is it, then, a wonder that more ovens are not out?"

The wonder is simply this: that in every Presidential campaign in which the result is not foretold beyond peradventure of quibble timid capital takes flight or at least becomes conservative and trilling which results in a sensible slowing down of business in all lines until the election is over and the national policies of the ensuing four years are well defined. There is no danger at the election of the Prohibition ticket. National State of County but the puzzling apathy of the campaign has been a doubt as to the result as between Taft and Bryan and that doubt, however small or ill founded, has been sufficient to count into materially to the halting business situation. But for it times would undoubtedly be better right now.

In 1901, the county discounted Roosevelt's election and there was no perceptible restoration in business. It is seldom however that the uncertainties of politics are so fully eliminated as to guarantee positive results. The business world seldom takes any chances however remote. It is taking none today. While there is no reason to doubt as to the success of the Republican cause, many companies prefer the safe side. All such are awaiting the result before proceeding further. In spite of this, however, the coke region has recovered 75 per cent of its confidence since the money panic of last fall and the country is large considerably more. That is why we say it is a wonder that more coke ovens are not out.

The mention of it is worthy of note that the growing confidence in Republican success has advanced the price of coke from $12 to $20.00 per ton and has caused the blowing in of independent open market coke ovens as fast as furnace owned ovens are blown out for reasons of business or necessity. It has also encouraged the building of a number of new plants in the Connelville region and the purchase of upwicks of four million dollars worth of coke county coal. It has likewise created a demand for coal that the companies find it difficult to fill. One Somerset county coal company is just now advertising in The Courier for 500 men to work at its plant the scarcity of labor rendering this course necessary in the judgment of the mine owners.

If the indications pointed to the election of Bryan, even iron and steel and coke industry in the Connelville region is indirectly but vitally interested in the continuation of the Republican doctrine of Protection because upon its continuation depends the steady employment and good wages of every worker of the industrial and transportation interests mentioned. The Democrats may demand, the Prohibitionists plead the Socialists scoff but the fact remains that American labor is a hope in a Protective Tariff that will enable the American manufacturer to pay American wages to American skill and service, and the hope of the Protective Tariff lies in Republican success alone.

The News says the Republicans of Connelville must be frightened because they have wanted the services of some speakers of state wide reputation for their coming meeting.
